

TrueNute Humic Acid

Thank you for your purchase of TrueNute Humic Acid from True Aquaponics.

The idea behind using humic acid is to lower the amount of sun light or other light getting into your aquaponics system water causing algae to grow. It doesn't take much of this stuff to do the job, so take it slow, adding 1 teaspoon to 100 gallons of water. Let it move through the system to see if it gets as dark as you want it to. Then slowly add it to your system until the water reaches the desired darkness to control the growth of algae. Do not rush it, let it mix in well in the system before adding more. If you have a very small system, add it a small pinch at a time.
